PCA Industrial & Paper Supplies Inc.

Best part about working here: Getting to interact with the customers, being a driver.

Favorite morale booster: The different events we do throughout the year, like the Phillies game.

Most important thing you've learned here: I've learned to be more responsible.

— Sergio DelValle, driver

Best part about working here: The people — we are a close group that enjoys the good and the bad in one another.

Favorite morale booster: Once a quarter we all get together and do something fun (bowling, Phillies game). Just a great time where we all get to hang out and not discuss work!

Most important thing you've learned here: I have learned that you can have an enjoyable, fun and challenging job and a life outside of it. We all work hard and play harder!

TV show your office most resembles: "MacGyver" — with a roll of duct tape he could do or build anything. I think we have a group of MacGyver's that collectively we can do anything.

— June Johnson, customer service manager

Best part about working here: We work very hard here, but it's still a fun place to work. We laugh a lot and it feels like a second home. Our boss really strives to keep it that way.

Favorite morale booster: We had a bowling night, and everyone really had a great time just hanging out with each other away from work.

Most important thing you've learned here: That a nurturing atmosphere can really help you grow. Just someone having the confidence in you to do the job can be really motivating and empowering.

TV show your office most resembles: "The Brady Bunch" — a lot of different personalities coming together as a family (and some days I feel like a combination of Mrs. Brady and Alice!)

— Jill Blatstein, operations manager

Best part about working here: PCA is a family-oriented company that thrives on helping each other towards a common goal; the customers' interest always comes first.

Favorite morale booster: Giving back to the community through PCA's charitable services and contributions; my favorite was "Spring Training Day," a day for children with special needs.

Most important thing you've learned here: Honesty and self worth and an old school work ethic.

TV show your office most resembles: "Seinfeld."

— Theresa Antonelli, account executive

Best part about working here? The camaraderie of all the workers.

Favorite morale booster: Feeding families at the Ronald McDonald House.

Most important thing you've learned here: Integrity is the main selling point.

TV show your office most resembles: "Cheers" — where everyone knows your name.
